

Transgender Day of Remembrance 2011

Since 1999, the Transgender Day of Remembrance has been commemorated every 20th November.

The Transgender Day of Remembrance is important because it:

- publicly honours those trans people who have paid the ultimate price for simply being themselves;
- raises public awareness of transphobic hate crimes;
- supports and strengthens our diverse communities in our efforts to ensure human rights for all.

The TDOR 2011 update has revealed a shocking total of 221 cases of reported killings of transgender people from November 20th 2010 to November 14th 2011.

Their names are listed at:

www.transrespect-transphobia.org
and www.scottishtrans.org

